FOR THE NORTHERN MARIANA ISLANDS

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE LAO
PEOPLE’S DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC,

CIVIL CASE NO. 22-00011

Petitioner,

vs.

JOHN K. BALDWIN,
BRIDGE CAPITAL LLC,
LAO HOLDINGS N.V., SANUM INVESTMENTS LTD., and SHAWN SCOTT,

DECISION AND ORDER
Granting Respondents John K. Baldwin and Bridge Capital LLC’s Motion to Dismiss
Amended Petition (ECF No. 59)

Respondents.

In this action to enforce foreign arbitral awards, Respondents John K. Baldwin (“Baldwin”) and Bridge Capital LLC¹ (“Bridge Capital”) move to dismiss the Amended Petition to Enforce Foreign Arbitral Awards (the “Amended Petition”) filed by Petitioner, The Government of the Lao People’s Democratic Republic (“GOL” or “Petitioner”). Respondents argue (1) GOL’s attempt to enforce the awards against the non-debtor Respondents is premature and should be dismissed, (2) GOL failed to sufficiently allege a claim for veil piercing, and (3) Baldwin is not estopped from defending against the alter ego allegations. See Resp’ts’ Mot. Dismiss, ECF No. 59. Having heard argument from the parties on January 10, 2025, see Mins. ECF No. 102, and reviewed relevant authority as well as the parties’ filings and supplemental briefs, see ECF Nos. 59, 63, 75, 109 and 110, the court now issues this Decision and Order granting the Respondents’ Motion to Dismiss

1 as discussed below.

2 I. BACKGROUND

3 A. Investments in Laos

4 In 2007, Baldwin and Shawn Scott ("Scott") became involved in casino and gaming 5 businesses in Laos. Am. Pet., at 26, ECF No. 55, and 1st Arbitral Award² at ¶ 1, ECF Nos. 55-2 6 to 55-4. For this purpose, they incorporated Sanum Investment Ltd. ("Sanum") in Macau. Id.
7 Sanum partnered with a Loatian conglomerate, ST Holdings, to finance and build two casino projects
8 and three slot machine clubs in Laos. Am. Pet. at ¶ 26, ECF No. 55, 1st Arbitral Award at ¶ 1, ECF 9 No. 55-2. One of the casinos – the Savan Vegas Hotel and Casino ("Savan Vegas Casino") – was 10 built and operated successfully, but the second casino (Paksong Vegas Casino) was never built. Id.
11 GOL asserts that Baldwin funded these investments through loans from Bridge. Am. Pet. at ¶ 26, 12 ECF No. 55.

13 GOL alleges that in January 2012, Baldwin and Scott created LHNV in Aruba, and "inserted 14 LHNV into the corporate ownership chain between themselves and Sanum." Am. Pet. at ¶¶ 28 and 15 40A, ECF No. 55. Baldwin and Scott are alleged to each own 50% of LHNV, and LHNV owned 16 100% of Sanum. Id. Sanum owned 80% of the Savan Vegas Casino. Id.

17 Disputes eventually emerged between Sanum, its local Lao partners and GOL. 1st Arbitral 18 Award at ¶ 2, ECF No. 55-2, and 3rd Arbitral Award³ at ¶66, ECF No. 55-9.

19 B. The BIT 1 Arbitration Proceedings

20 Respondents alleged that by mid-August 2012, "GOL began taking expropriatory actions that 21 Sanum and LHNV contended violated treaty protections GOL promised to foreign investors."

24 ² Exhibit B to the Amended Petition is a copy of the award issued by the International Centre 25 for Settlement of Investment Disputes on August 6, 2019, in the arbitration proceeding between Lao Holdings N.V. ("LHNV") and GOL. Exhibit B shall be referred to as the "1st Arbitral Award."

26 ³ Exhibit G to the Amended Petition is a copy of the award issued by the Singapore 27 International Arbitration Centre on August 11, 2021, in the arbitration proceeding between Sanum, LHNV, San Marco Capital Partners LLC, Kelly Gass and GOL. Exhibit G shall be referred to as the 28 "3rd Arbitral Award."

1 Resp'ts' Mem. Supp. Mot. Dismiss Am. Pet. at 3,⁴ ECF No. 59-1. This led Sanum and LHNV to 2 initiate two Bilateral Investment Treaty ("BIT") arbitration proceedings. Id. On August 14, 2012, 3 Sanum commenced an arbitration proceeding against GOL under the BIT between the government 4 of the People's Republic of China and GOL (the "Sanum Proceeding"). Am. Pet. at ¶ 30, ECF No.
5 55. On the same day, LHNV initiated an arbitration proceeding against GOL under the BIT between 6 GOL and the Kingdom of the Netherlands (the "LHNV Proceeding").⁵ Am. Pet. at ¶ 29, ECF 7 No. 55.

8 On June 15, 2014, the parties settled the BIT 1 Arbitrations by entering into a Deed of 9 Settlement. Resp'ts' Mem. Supp. Mot. Dismiss Am. Pet. at 3, ECF No. 59-1, and 3rd Arbitral Award 10 at ¶ 69, ECF No. 55-9. On June 17, 2014, the parties "entered into a Side Letter amending, 11 correcting and clarifying certain points in the Deed [of Settlement]." Id. "The BIT 1 Arbitrations 12 were suspended pending completion of the terms of settlement." Id. at ¶ 71.

13 Subsequently, the parties each alleged the other had materially breached the terms of the 14 settlement agreement. Id. at ¶¶ 72-76. The BIT 1 Arbitrations were reinstated.⁶ On August 6, 2019, 15 the BIT 1 tribunals issued two awards. Resp'ts' Mem. Supp. Mot. Dismiss Am. Pet. at 3, ECF 16 No. 59-1, and 1st and 2nd Arbitral Awards,⁷ ECF Nos. 55-2 to 55-5. The two awards dismissed all 17 of Sanum and LHNV's claims and awarded GOL its fees, expenses and costs of the arbitration. Am.

number of the CM-ECF generated header.

21 ⁵ The Sanum Proceeding and the LHNV Proceeding are collectively referred to as the "BIT 1 22 Arbitrations."

23 ⁶ Sanum and LHNV also initiated additional BIT arbitrations against GOL (the "BIT 2 24 Proceedings"), and, at the briefing stage of the instant motion, the BIT 2 tribunal had not yet issued 25 an award in those proceedings. See Mot. Dismiss at 4, ECF No. 59-1, and 3rd Arbitral Award at ¶77, 26 ECF No. 55-9. At the hearing on the Motion to Dismiss, Respondents' counsel informed the court that the BIT 2 tribunal issued a ruling in Sanum and LHNV's favor. See Tr. of Oral Argument at 11-13, ECF No. 107.

27 ⁷ Exhibit D to the Amended Petition is a copy of the award issued by the Permanent Court 28 of Arbitration on August 6, 2019, in the arbitration proceeding between Sanum and GOL. Exhibit D shall be referred to as the "2nd Arbitral Award."

1 Pet. at ¶ 34, ECF No. 55. In the Sanum Proceeding, GOL was awarded $1.78 million, and in the 2 LHNV proceeding, GOL was awarded approximately $1.95 million. Id.

3 On November 6, 2019, Sanum and LHNV filed an action in the High Court of Singapore to 4 set aside the two BIT 1 awards. Id. at ¶ 38. The Singapore International Commercial Court 5 dismissed the action, and LHNV/Sanum appealed that decision to the Singapore Court of Appeal.
6 Id. On November 22, 2022, the Singapore Court of Appeals issued its ruling dismissing the appeal 7 and awarded costs to GOL. Id.

8 C. The SIAC Arbitration Proceeding

9 On April 16, 2015, GOL took control of the Savan Vegas Casino. 3rd Arbitral Award at 10 ¶ 78, ECF No. 55-9. GOL entered into a management contract with San Marco Capital Partners, 11 LLC (“San Marco”) for the management, sale and marketing of the Savan Vegas Casino, and Kelly 12 Gass signed the contract as the President of San Marco. Id. at ¶ 79.

13 On December 19, 2017, Sanum and LHNV initiated another arbitration proceeding under an 14 arbitration agreement entered into between LHNV/Sanum and San Marco and Ms. Gass, under the 15 Rules of the Singapore International Arbitration Centre (the “SIAC Proceeding”). See Am. Pet. at 16 ¶ 35, ECF No. 55 and Resp’ts’ Mem. Supp. Mot. Dismiss Am. Pet. at 4, ECF No. 59-1. GOL 17 intervened as a respondent in the SIAC Proceeding because GOL had indemnified San Marco. Am.
18 Pet. at ¶ 35, ECF No. 55.

19 Ultimately, the SIAC tribunal issued an award on August 11, 2021, dismissing all of 20 LHNV/Sanum’s claims and awarding San Marco and Ms. Gass a combined sum of $437,200. 3rd 21 Arbitral Award at ¶ 350, ECF No. 55-9. The SIAC tribunal also awarded GOL a total of $862,425.
22 Id. Based on a subrogation agreement GOL entered with San Marco and Ms. Glass on October 28, 23 2021, GOL seeks to sue for and recover the full amount of the SIAC award. Am. Pet. at ¶ 36, ECF 24 No. 55.

25 On November 12, 2021, LHNV/Sanum filed an action in the High Court of Singapore to set 26 aside the SIAC Award. Id. at ¶ 39. The Singapore International Commercial Court dismissed the 27 action, and LHNV/Sanum appealed. Id. On November 19, 2022, the Singapore Court of Appeals 28 dismissed the appeal and awarded costs to GOL. Id.

1 D. Attempts to Collect on the Awards

2 After the two BIT 1 tribunals issued their awards on August 6, 2019, GOL wrote to LHNV's 3 Managing Director in Aruba, giving notice of the award and requesting the Managing Director to 4 explain what steps LHNV would take to satisfy the award. Id. at ¶ 41.O.

5 GOL also filed a civil suit in Thailand to enforce the LHNV arbitral award against Baldwin, 6 since Baldwin had an estate in Thailand and did business there. Id. at ¶ 41.P. Baldwin filed a sworn 7 statement in the Thailand case stating "I am not a director of [LHNV]. I have no authorization to 8 do business operations for [LHNV]." Id.

9 In April 2020, GOL filed suit against Baldwin and Bridge in the U.S. District Court for the 10 District of Idaho⁹ to enforce the two BIT 1 awards against them. See The Gov't of Lao People's 11 Democratic Republic v. Baldwin, et al., Case No. 2:20-CV-00195-CRK (D. Id.) (the "Idaho Case").
12 The court gave GOL three attempts to amend its complaint, and on August 29, 2022, the Idaho 13 district court dismissed the claim against Baldwin and Bridge for lack of personal jurisdiction. Id., 14 Mem. Decision and Order re: Motion to Dismiss Third Am. Compl., ECF No. 163.

15 E. Procedural History

16 On August 1, 2022, GOL filed the original Petition to Enforce Foreign Arbitral Awards (the 17 "Petition") and named LHNV, Sanum, Baldwin and Bridge as respondents. See Pet., ECF No. 1.
18 GOL sought a judgment enforcing the three arbitral awards against LHNV and Sanum and also 19 petitioned to enforce the awards and to enter judgment against Baldwin and Bridge, as the alter egos 20 of the award debtors.

21 On November 29, 2022, GOL and respondents Baldwin and Bridge entered into a stipulation 22 to extend the time for Baldwin and Bridge to respond to the Petition. See Stip, ECF No. 3. The 23 court granted the stipulation and gave Baldwin and Bridge until January 9, 2023, to respond to the 24 ⁸ The Amended Petition is silent as to how the Thailand court ruled in the civil action.

25 ⁹ GOL asserted that Baldwin and Bridge maintained bank accounts at the Idaho Independent 26 Bank. Am. Pet. at ¶ 41.N., ECF No. 55. GOL claimed that the legal fees and costs associated with 27 the arbitration proceedings were paid from the Idaho bank accounts. Id. GOL further asserted that 28 "Baldwin closed Sanum's bank account in the Idaho Independent Bank in late 2019 after [GOL] informed his counsel it would seek to enforce the arbitral awards in Idaho." Id. at ¶ 50.

1 Petition. See Order, ECF No. 4.

2 On January 9, 2023, Baldwin and Scott filed a Motion to Dismiss the Petition. See ECF
3 No. 5.

4 On March 17, 2023, GOL filed a motion requesting Chief Judge Manglona to recuse herself 5 from this matter. See ECF No. 13. After briefing on the matter, Chief Judge Manglona issued an 6 Order on April 26, 2023, recusing herself from this case. See Order of Self Recusal, ECF No. 19.
7 On April 28, 2024, the below-signed judge was designated to handle this case. See ECF No. 20.

8 On August 17, 2023, GOL filed a Motion to Amend the Petition to include additional 9 allegations against Baldwin and to include Scott as a respondent. See ECF No. 26. The court 10 granted the motion on October 16, 2023. See Order, ECF No. 51.

11 On November 15, 2023, GOL filed the Amended Petition. See Am. Pet., ECF No. 55.

12 Pursuant to a Stipulation of the parties that was granted by the court, see ECF Nos. 56-57, 13 on December 4, 2023, Respondents Baldwin and Bridge filed the instant Motion to Dismiss the 14 Amended Petition. See Mot. Dismiss, No. 59. Additionally, LHNV filed a separate Motion to 15 Dismiss the Amended Petition.¹⁰ See ECF No. 58.

16 On February 19, 2024, GOL filed its Opposition to the Motion to Dismiss. See GOL's 17 Opp'n, ECF No. 63.

18 On April 8, 2024, Baldwin and Bridge filed their Reply to GOL's Opposition. See Resp'ts' 19 Reply, ECF NO. 75.

20 On May 30, 2024, Sanum and Scott filed a Stipulation to Extend Time to File Responsive 21 Pleadings. See ECF No. 86. Therein, Sanum, Scott and GOL agreed to extend the time for Sanum 22 and Scott to respond to the Amended Petition because the court's "decision on the Baldwin/Bridge 23 Motion [to Dismiss] may well resolve or clarify issues pertinent to Sanum's and Scott's responses 24 to the Amended Petition." Id. at 2. On June 4, 2024, Magistrate Judge Michael J. Bordallo granted 25 the stipulation and ordered Sanum and Scott to respond to the Amended Petition no later than 15

3 II. LEGAL STANDARD

4 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6) permits the dismissal of a claim for “failure to state 5 a claim upon which relief can be granted[.]” Review of a Rule 12(b)(6) motion is generally limited 6 to the contents of the complaint and its attachments. Lee v. County of Los Angeles, 250 F.3d 668, 7 688 (9th Cir. 2001). On a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss, all allegations of material fact are taken 8 as true and construed in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party. Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 9 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007); Fed’n of African Am. Contractors v. City of Oakland, 96 F.3d 1204, 1207
10 (9th Cir.1996). A court is not required to accept as true legal conclusions couched as factual 11 allegations. Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009). To survive a motion to dismiss, a 12 complaint must contain sufficient factual matter to “state a claim to relief that is plausible on its 13 face.” Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570. “A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual 14 content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the 15 misconduct alleged.” Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678.

16 III. ANALYSIS

17 Respondents Baldwin and Bridge assert that GOL’s attempt to enforce the three international 18 arbitral awards against them fails for three reasons. First, Respondents assert they were not parties 19 to the arbitrations and are not debtors on the arbitral awards, and, thus, they have no obligation to 20 pay GOL, particularly when no court or tribunal has found them to be alter egos of either LHNV or 21 Sanum. Second, Respondents argue that the Amended Petition fails to state a claim for veil piercing.
22 Finally, Respondents refute the Amended Petition’s assertion that Baldwin is estopped from denying 23 that he is personally liable for the awards as the alter ego of LHNV and Sanum. The court will begin 24 its discussion on the first issue since a ruling for the Respondents would negate the need to discuss 25 the two remaining arguments.

26 A. Whether the Arbitral Awards can be Enforced Against Non-Debtors

27 Respondents argue that GOL’s attempt to enforce the arbitral awards against them as non-28 debtors to the awards is premature and must be dismissed. Resp’ts’ Mem. Supp. Mot. Dismiss Am.

1 Pet. at 7-10, ECF No. 59-1. Respondents assert that “[t]he correct and available path forward for 2 GOL is: (1) to seek to recognize and enforce the awards against Sanum and LHNV in courts having 3 jurisdiction over them; and (2) if any resulting judgments remain unsatisfied, GOL may file a 4 separate plenary action against Baldwin and Bridge seeking to enforce the judgment under an alter 5 ego theory.” Id. at 10.

6 Here, the Amended Petition asserts this court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action 7 pursuant to 9 U.S.C. §§ 203 and 207. Section 203 provides that “[a]n action or proceeding falling 8 under the [New York] Convention¹¹ shall be deemed to arise under the laws and treaties of the 9 United States. The district courts of the United States . . . shall have original jurisdiction over such 10 an action or proceeding, regardless of the amount in controversy.” 9 U.S.C. § 203. Section 207 11 provides that

12 [w]ithin three years after an arbitral award falling under the [New York] Convention 13 is made, any party to the arbitration may apply to any court having jurisdiction under 14 this chapter for an order confirming the award as against any other party to the 15 arbitration. The court shall confirm the award unless it finds one of the grounds for refusal or deferral of recognition or enforcement of the award specified in the [New York] Convention.

16 9 U.S.C. § 207 (emphasis added).

17 Based on the language of Section 207, particularly the phrase in bold above, Respondents 18 assert that confirmation and enforcement of an arbitral award is specifically restricted to the parties 19 to the arbitration.

20 _____
21 ¹¹ The Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards, 22 commonly known as the “New York Convention,” established a worldwide standard for enforcing 23 foreign arbitration agreements and awards in the signatory countries. The United States signed the 24 New York Convention on September 30, 1970, and it was entered into force in the United States on December 29, 1970. Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards, June 10, 1958, 21
U.S.T. 2517.

25 Chapter 2 of the Federal Arbitration Act (“FAA”), 9 U.S.C. § 201 et seq., implements the 26 United States’ obligations under the New York Convention. see Scherk v. Alberto-Culver Co., 417 27 U.S. 506, 520 n.15 (1974). “The goal of the [New York] Convention, and the principal purpose 28 underlying American adoption and implementation of it, was to encourage the recognition and enforcement of commercial arbitration agreements in international contracts and to unify the standards by which agreements to arbitrate are observed and arbitral awards are enforced in the signatory countries.” Id.

1 Respondents rely on the case of Orion Shipping & Trading Co., Inc. v. E. States Petroleum 2 Corp., 312 F.2d 299 (2d Cir.), cert. denied, 373 U.S. 949 (1963) to support their position that an 3 action for confirmation of an arbitral award is not the proper means for piercing the corporate veil.
4 In Orion, petitioner and one of the respondents (Eastern Panama) entered into a contract for the 5 transportation of oil. Id. at 300. Eastern Panama's obligations under the contract were guaranteed 6 by its parent corporation and the parent's successor corporation (Signal). Id. The matter was 7 submitted to arbitration when Eastern Panama notified the petitioner that it would terminate the 8 contract because of a presidential proclamation limiting the importation of crude oil into the Untied 9 States. Id. The arbitrator determined that Eastern Panama was responsible for the breach of contract 10 and that Signal was liable on its guarantee if Eastern Panama were to default. Id. Petitioner then 11 filed an action to confirm the award, and Signal moved to vacate the award against it. Id. The trial 12 court declined to confirm that portion of the award holding Signal liable as a guarantor on the basis 13 that the arbitrator "exceeded his powers in determining the obligations of a corporation which was 14 clearly not a party to the arbitration proceeding." Id. The petitioner appealed, and argued that in an 15 action to confirm the award, the district court may adjudge Signal liable as an alter ego of Eastern 16 Panama. Id. at 301. The appellate court recognized that while "Eastern Panama [may be] thoroughly 17 dominated by Signal and that Signal is properly accountable on an 'alter ego' theory," the Second 18 Circuit held that "an action for confirmation is not the proper time for a [d]istrict [c]ourt to 'pierce 19 the corporate veil.'" Id. The court reasoned that in a confirmation action under 9 U.S.C. § 9, 20 the judge's powers are narrowly circumscribed and best exercised with expedition.

21 It would unduly complicate and protract the proceeding were the court to be 22 confronted with a potentially voluminous record setting out details of the corporate relationship between a party bound by an arbitration award and its purported 'alter ego'.

24 The Second Circuit further stated that its 25 holding does not preclude [petitioner] from prosecuting its action, still pending, 26 against Signal as guarantor of Eastern Panama's obligations. Nor does it preclude [petitioner] from bringing a separate action against Signal to enforce the award 27 against Eastern Panama, invoking the 'alter ego' theory. But an action to confirm the arbitrator's award cannot be employed as a substitute for either of these two quite distinct causes of action.

28 Id.

1 The Respondents' Motion to Dismiss cites to other district court decisions in New York and 2 Texas that relied on Orion and declined to confirm an arbitration award against a party that was 3 neither a party to the arbitration nor a debtor on the award. See Resp'ts' Mem. Supp. Mot. Dismiss 4 Am. Pet. at 9-10. In GE Transp. (Shenyan) Co., Ltd. v. A-Power Energy Generations Sys., Ltd., 15
5 Civ. 6196 (PAE), 2016 WL 3525358 (S.D.N.Y. June 22, 2016), petitioner GET brought a petition 6 to confirm and enforce a foreign arbitration award. Id. at *1. In addition to seeking to confirm and 7 enforce the arbitration award against respondent A-Power, who was also the respondent in the 8 underlying arbitration action, GET "sought enforcement of the arbitration award and entry of 9 judgment jointly and severally against various entities related to A-Power under an alter-ego theory 10 of liability." Id. Based on the holding in Orion, the district court declined to enforce the award as 11 to the alleged alter egos. Id. at *5-6.

12 The other case cited in the Respondents' memorandum is Liberty Ins. Corp. v. Omni Constr.
13 Co., No. 4:21-CV-02119, 2022 WL 2373734 (S.D. Tex. June 9, 2022), report and recommendation
14 adopted, No. No. 4:21-CV-02119, 2022 WL 2359643 (S.D. Tex. June 29, 2022). Unlike the instant 15 case or Orion, Liberty involved the confirmation of a domestic arbitration award. In Liberty, 16 plaintiff (Liberty) issued liability policies to defendant Omni, a construction company. Id. at *1.
17 Omni was the general contractor in the construction of a hotel owned by a development company, 18 Odom. Id. A dispute arose over Omni's performance, and Odom initiated arbitration proceedings 19 against Omni pursuant to their agreement. Id. Omni did not appear or take any action to defend 20 itself, nor did it notify Liberty of the arbitration and ask Liberty to defend Omni. Id. The arbitration 21 tribunal ultimately issued an award in favor of Odom for approximately $5.67 million. Id. Odom 22 then filed a petition in state court seeking a pre-suit deposition of Liberty, with topics for the 23 deposition to include Liberty's coverage for Omni's work on the hotel project, any limits of that 24 coverage, and any correspondence on the matter. Id. Having received notice of the potential lawsuit, 25 Liberty then sued Omni and Odom in the Southern District of Texas, seeking a declaration that its 26 policies did not cover the events at issue in the underlying arbitration. Odom counterclaimed, 27 seeking a declaratory judgment that Liberty did owe coverage and that Odom is entitled to payment 28 from Liberty. Id. Odom also brought a counterclaim against Liberty and a crossclaim against Omni

1 for the confirmation of the award. Id. Liberty then filed a motion to dismiss. Id. The court 2 dismissed the counterclaim against Liberty and, citing to Orion, stated that “[c]onfirmation is not 3 the appropriate vehicle to hold Liberty – or any party, including Omni – ‘ultimately . . . liable for the 4 arbitration award’ Instead, the proper avenue for holding a party liable is to enforce an 5 arbitration award that was already confirmed.” Id. at *5.

6 In response, GOL argues that Respondents’ reliance on a 60-year old case is “misplaced.”
7 GOL’s Opp’n at 7, ECF No. 63. GOL maintains that under the New York Convention, confirmation 8 of the arbitral awards is not required before recognition and enforcement. Am. Pet. at ¶ 16, ECF 9 No. 55 and GOL’s Opp’n at 5-7, ECF No. 63. In support of its assertion, GOL cites to the case of 10 CBF Industria de Gusa v. AMCI Holdings, Inc., 850 F.3d 58 (2d Cir. 2017). In that case, appellants 11 CBF obtained a foreign arbitral award against SBT, a Swiss company that filed for bankruptcy in 12 Switzerland during the arbitration proceedings. Id. at 66-67. Because of SBT’s bankruptcy, CBF 13 was unable to enforce its award against it, so CBF filed an action to enforce the foreign arbitral 14 award against SBT’s alter egos and successors-in interest. Id. at 68. The district court dismissed the 15 enforcement action, holding that CBF “could enforce the award only after the award was confirmed 16 in Switzerland or another court of competent jurisdiction.” Based on Orion, the district court held 17 that CBF could not pursue enforcement of an arbitral award under the New York Convention and 18 the FAA without first confirming the award. Id. “The district court held that Orion required a 19 two-step process by which appellants were required to confirm the award prior to seeking 20 enforcement of that award.” Id.

21 Thereafter, CBF initiated an action to confirm the arbitral award in the same district court.
22 Id. at 69. However, as a legal entity, “SBT was effectively a nullity after it was deleted from the 23 Swiss Commercial Register,” which meant “it [was] no longer able to . . . be sued or have debt 24 collection proceedings filed against it.” Id. (italics omitted). The district court thus held that “SBT 25 lacked capacity to be sued because it was no longer a corporate entity according to Swiss law.” Id.
26 CBF then appealed from the dismissals of the enforcement action and the confirmation action. Id.
27 at 70.

28 The Second Circuit ultimately reversed the district court’s dismissals. The appellate court

1 stated that “both the New York Convention and its implementing legislation in Chapter 2 of the FAA 2 envision a single-step process for reducing a foreign arbitral award to a domestic judgment.” Id.
3 at 72 (quotation marks omitted). The court further explained:

4 Under the New York Convention, this process of reducing a foreign arbitral 5 award to a judgment is referred to as “recognition and enforcement.” “Recognition” 6 is the determination that an arbitral award is entitled to preclusive effect; 7 “Enforcement” is the reduction to a judgment of a foreign arbitral award 8 Recognition and enforcement occur together, as one process, under the New York 9 Convention.

10 Chapter 2 of the FAA implements this scheme through Section 207, which 11 provides that any party may, “[w]ithin three years after an arbitral award . . . is made, 12 . . . apply to any court having jurisdiction under this chapter for an order confirming 13 the award.” Additionally, Chapter 2 of the FAA provides that “[t]he court shall 14 confirm the award unless it finds one of the grounds for refusal or deferral of 15 recognition or enforcement of the award specified in the [New York] Convention” 16 at Article V. Read in context with the New York Convention, it is evident that the 17 term “confirm” as used in Section 207 is the equivalent of “recognition and 18 enforcement” as used in the New York Convention for the purposes of foreign 19 arbitral awards. As the United States as amicus curiae explained, “the ‘confirmation’ 20 proceeding under Chapter Two of the FAA fulfills the United States’ obligation 21 under the [New York] Convention to provide procedures for ‘recognition and 22 enforcement’ of [New York] Convention arbitral awards.” A single proceeding, 23 therefore, “facilitate[s] the enforcement of arbitration awards by enabling parties to 24 enforce them in third countries without first having to obtain either confirmation of 25 such awards or leave to enforce them from a court in the country of the arbitral situs.”

26 This, in fact, was the entire purpose of the New York Convention, which 27 succeeded and replaced the Convention on the Execution of Foreign Arbitral Awards 28 (“Geneva Convention”). The primary defect of the Geneva Convention was that it required an award first to be recognized in the rendering state before it could be enforced abroad. This was known as the “double exequatur” requirement, and the New York Convention did away with it by eradicating the requirement that a court in the rendering state recognize an award before it could be taken and enforced abroad.

29 Id. at 70-72 (internal citations omitted).

30 The Second Circuit concluded that 31 the district court erred in holding that appellants were required to confirm their 32 foreign arbitral award before they would be allowed to enforce it. The New York 33 Convention and Chapter 2 of the FAA require only that the award-creditor of a 34 foreign arbitral award file one action in a federal district court to enforce the foreign 35 arbitral award against the award-debtor. . . . To the extent, then, that a confirmation 36 proceeding is required for nondomestic arbitral awards, such a procedure would be 37 in conflict with the single step procedure mandated by Chapter 2 and the New York 38 Convention for foreign arbitral awards.

39 Id. at 74.

40 The CBF Industria decision further stated that

1 appellants properly sought to have the district court enforce a foreign arbitral award 2 under its secondary jurisdiction. On remand, therefore, we instruct the district court 3 to evaluate appellants' Enforcement Action, particularly appellants' effort to reach 4 appellees as alter-egos of SBT, under the standards set out in the New York 5 Convention, Chapter 2 of the FAA, and applicable law in the Southern District of 6 New York.

7 [T]he sole issue at present for the district court to consider on remand pertains to 8 the liability of appellees for satisfaction of appellants' foreign arbitral award as 9 alter-egos of the award-debtor under the applicable law in the Southern District of 10 New York. We leave further legal and factual development of this issue, and any 11 other barriers to enforcement that appellees may argue on remand, to the district 12 court.

13 Id. at 75-76.

14 The Respondents counter that GOL's reliance on CBF Industria is inapposite. The 15 Respondents assert that the facts in the CBF Industria case are materially different than the facts in 16 the instant case. Resp'ts' Mem. Supp. Mot. Dismiss Am. Pet. at 8, ECF No. 59-1. There, the award 17 debtor ceased to exist, and there was no award debtor to pursue. Here, Sanum and LHNV still exist, 18 and Respondents maintain that the arbitral awards can be confirmed or recognized and enforced 19 against them. Id. Additionally, Respondents argue that the analysis in CBF Industria was flawed 20 because the court "improperly omitted critical statutory language" under Section 207 with regard to 21 "confirming the award as against any other party to the arbitration." Id.

22 GOL's Opposition also cites to the case of Ministry of Def. of Islamic Republic of Iran v.
23 Gould, Inc., 969 F.2d 764 (9th Cir. 1992), and asserts that said case "patently validates the propriety 24 of the procedure requested by [GOL], a single action to confirm an international arbitral award and 25 pierce the corporate veils of the award debtors." GOL's Opp'n at 4, ECF No. 63. In Ministry of 26 Defense, the government of Iran entered into an agreement with Hoffman Export Corporation 27 ("Hoffman") in 1975 for the sale of military communications equipment and services to Iran. Id.
28 at 765. All shares of Hoffman stock were acquired by Gould, Inc. in January 1978, and in April 1978, Hoffman entered into a second agreement with the Iranian government to provide more military communications equipment and services. Id. In November 1979, the U.S. embassy in Teheran, Iran was seized, and Hoffman's performance of the two agreements was disrupted. Id. In 1980, Hoffman filed suit against Iran, alleging a breach of contract. Id. This suit was eventually

1 dismissed without prejudice based on an agreement between the United States and Iran that 2 established a Claims Tribunal where nationals of either country could present their claims against 3 the government of the other. Id. at 766-67. Hoffman then brought claims against Iran before the 4 Claims Tribunal, alleging breach of contracts, and Iran filed counterclaims against Hoffman also 5 alleging breach of the contracts. Id. at 767. While the arbitration was pending,

6 Hoffman was merged into Gould Marketing, Inc. ("GMI"). During this time, all 7 shares in GMI were owned by Gould International, Inc. ("GII"), and all shares in GII 8 were in turn owned by Gould, Inc. Thus GMI was Hoffman's successor in interest, 9 and, as was Hoffman, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Gould, Inc. GMI was 10 substituted for Hoffman as the claimant in the pending arbitration before the Claims 11 Tribunal.

10 Id.

11 The Claims Tribunal "rejected both parties' breach of contract claims, concluding instead that 12 '[p]erformance had become essentially impossible.'" Id. A further hearing was held and ultimately 13 the Claims Tribunal concluded that GMI owed Iran approximately $3.6 million. Id.

14 Iran sought a confirmation and enforcement of the Claims Tribunal award in district court, 15 and although only GMI was named in the Claim Tribunal award, Iran also sought enforcement 16 against Gould, Inc., Hoffman and GII. Id. On cross motions for summary judgment, the district 17 court held that Ian failed to show that Gould, Inc. was the alter ego of Hoffman, GMI or GII and thus 18 dismissed Gould, Inc. Id. at 768. Iran appealed the dismissal of Gould, Inc. as a party, and the Ninth 19 Circuit affirmed. Id. at 770.

20 The court concurs with the Respondents that GOL's reliance on the Ninth Circuit's decision 21 in Ministry of Defense does not support GOL's position because the Ministry of Defense case never 22 specifically addressed the issue raised here – whether it is proper for an award creditor to bring a 23 confirmation proceeding to enforce an arbitral award against non-debtors who are alleged alter egos 24 of the award debtor.

25 Finally, at oral argument, Respondents raised the case of Al-Qarqani v. Chevron Corp., 2019 26 WL 4729467 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 24, 2019), and the parties' supplemental briefs further discuss the 27 case. In Al-Qarqani, the government of Saudi Arabia transferred certain land to an official who in 28 turn leased it to an affiliate of what later became Chevron Corporation. Id. at *1-4. Numerous heirs

1 of the official brought suit brought suit against various Chevron entities, claiming that said entities
2 owed them rent. Id. at *1. The petitioners initiated arbitration proceedings, and ultimately sought 3 to confirm the $18 billion arbitral award. Id. at *1-2. Relevant to this case, the district court noted 4 that

5 Chevron USA, Inc., sued in the action, was not named as a party in the arbitration 6 proceedings. It is therefore dismissed on this basis alone. See 9 U.S.C. § 207 (“any 7 party to the arbitration may apply to any court having jurisdiction under this chapter 8 for an order confirming the award as against any other party to the arbitration.”).

8 Id. at *3, n.1. The court also cited the Orion case in the footnote and further noted that

9 Petitioners also filed a separate petition to confirm an award against another unnamed 10 party, Aramco Services Company, which was dismissed by the District Court in 11 Texas because, inter alia, the party was not named in the arbitration proceedings.
(See Dkt. No. 161-1, Al-Qaraqani [sic] v. Arabian Am. Oil Co., No. 18-cv-01807

12 The district court ultimately granted Chevron Corporation’s motion to dismiss the petition, 13 id. at *7, and the petitioners appealed. Al-Qaraqani v. Chevron Corp., 8 F.4th 1018 (9th Cir. 2021).

14 In affirming the district court’s dismissal of Chevron U.S.A. Inc., the Ninth Circuit stated:

15 [A]s to Chevron U.S.A., the heirs have advanced no non-frivolous theory of 16 enforcement. Chevron U.S.A. is not named in the arbitral award the heirs seek to 17 enforce. See 9 U.S.C. § 207 (authorizing petitions to confirm awards “as against any 18 other party to the arbitration”). . . . Accordingly, we affirm the district court’s 19 dismissal for lack of subject-matter jurisdiction as to Chevron U.S.A.

18 Id. at 1025.

19 The court declines to enforce the arbitral awards against the Respondents as the alleged alter 20 egos of Sanum and LHNV, but the court’s ruling does not reach the issue as to whether the 21 Respondents would ultimately qualify as alter egos. First, the court notes that the language used in 22 the FAA specifies “any party to the arbitration may apply to any court having jurisdiction . . . for an 23 order confirming the award as against any other party to the arbitration.” 9 U.S.C. § 207 24 (emphasis added). Here, the Respondents were not parties to the arbitration. The parties to the 25 BIT 1 arbitration proceedings were Sanum, LHNV and GOL. See 1st and 2nd Arbitral Awards, ECF 26 Nos. 55-2 to 55-5. The parties to the SIAC arbitration proceedings were Sanum and LHNV as 27 claimants, and San Marco Capital Partners LLC, Kelly Gass and GOL as the respondents in said 28 proceeding. See 3rd Arbitral Award, ECF No. 55-9. Exhibits B, D and G to the Amended Petition

1 clearly demonstrate that the Respondents were not parties to the arbitration proceedings and were 2 not named as the award debtors in the arbitral awards. As non-parties, the court cannot confirm the 3 arbitration awards against the Respondents under Section 207.

4 Second, the determination of whether the Respondents should be held liable as alter egos of 5 LHNV and Sanum is inappropriate in the context of an action to confirm the arbitration awards. The 6 court is persuaded by the Second Circuit's holding in Orion that "an action for confirmation is not 7 the proper time for a [d]istrict [c]ourt to 'pierce the corporate veil'." Orion, 312 F.2d at 301. As 8 noted in Orion, in a confirmation action,

9 the judge's powers are narrowly circumscribed and best exercised with expedition.
10 It would unduly complicate and protract the proceeding were the court to be 11 confronted with a potentially voluminous record setting out details of the corporate relationship between a party bound by an arbitration award and its purported 'alter ego'.

12 Id.

13 "A confirmation proceeding is thus a 'summary proceeding of limited scope'["] Liberty Ins., 14 2022 WL 2373734, at *5. The proper mechanism for GOL to hold the Respondents responsible for 15 the arbitration awards as the alleged alter egos of Sanum and LHNV is to bring a separate action in 16 court to pierce the corporate veil. Orion, 312 F.2d at 301. See also GE Transp., 2016 WL 3525358, 17 at *6; Eletson Holdings, Inc. v. Levona Holdings Ltd., 731 F. Supp. 3d 531, 589 (S.D.N.Y. 2024).
18 Sections 203 and 207 simply do not empower the court to make fact-intensive alter ego 19 determinations concerning non-parties to the arbitration.

20 The court is not persuaded by CBF Industria decision or other cases cited by GOL. The CBF 21 Industria decision is distinguishable because the award debtor there no longer existed, so CBF had 22 no choice but to enforce its award against the award debtor's alleged alter egos and successors-in-23 interest. CFB Industria, 850 F.3d at 68. Here, the award debtors – Sanum and LHNV – exist and 24 are named as respondents in this action. GOL still has the ability to confirm and enforce the awards 25 against said award debtors under Section 207. Additionally, when quoting the language of 26 Section 207, the CBF Industria decision omitted critical language that the award creditor may apply 27 to confirm the award "as against any other party to the arbitration." See CBF Industria, 850 F.3d 28 at 72. GOL contends that the Second Circuit's analysis "explains why the adoption of the [New

1 York] Convention requires the U.S. courts to confirm a foreign arbitral award in a single proceeding, 2 including a claim involving alter ego defendants.” GOL’s Opp’n at 6, ECF No. 63 (italics in 3 original). Contrary to GOL’s assertion, the CBF Industria decision said nothing about alter egos 4 being sued in a summary enforcement action. Instead, the CBF Industria opinion stated that “[t]he 5 New York Convention and Chapter 2 of the FAA require only that the award-creditor of a foreign 6 arbitral award file one action in a federal district court to enforce the foreign arbitral award against 7 the award-debtor.” CBF Industria, 850 F.3d at 74 (emphasis added).

8 Thus, based on the specific language of Section 207, the Al-Qarqani decisions, and the Orion 9 case and its progeny, the court holds that GOL may not enforce the arbitral awards against the 10 Respondents, who were not parties to the arbitration proceedings nor named as award debtors, in this 11 summary action. As stated above, the court’s ruling does not reach the issue of whether the 12 Respondents would qualify as the alter egos for award debtors Sanum and LHNV.

13 B. Whether There is a Separate Ground for Jurisdiction Over Respondents

14 On January 13, 2025, the court issued an Order asking the parties for supplemental briefs on 15 whether this court has diversity jurisdiction over the instant action in light of the discussion in the 16 GE Transp. case regarding the two exceptions to Orion that limit its reach. See Order re Suppl.
17 Briefs, ECF No. 103, which stated that Orion was still “good law,” 2016 WL 3525358, at *6, but 18 neither GOL nor the Respondents discuss or analyze the “two exceptions to Orion” raised by the 19 Southern District of New York in GE Transportation. The first exception¹² “applies where ‘the 20 complaint specifies two grounds for subject matter jurisdiction,’ such that the enforcement action 21 can ‘be construed as a separate action [from the confirmation action] to enforce the arbitration award 22 against nonparties to the arbitration.’ Sea Eagle Mar., Ltd. v. Hanan Int’l, Inc., No. 84 Civ. 3210

26 ¹² The second Orion exception applies where a claim of piercing the corporate veil would 27 not unduly complicate the action of the court with respect to the arbitration award. Id. at *7 (internal 28 quotations omitted). Because GOL’s claim to pierce the corporate veil would unduly complicate the confirmation of the arbitration awards against LHNV and Sanum, and because the parties’ filings do not address this issue, the court need not discuss this second exception any further.

1 (PNL), 1985 WL 3828, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 14, 1985)."¹³ Id. The court reviewed the petition 2 before it and noted "there [was] no separate jurisdictional basis for such an enforcement action" 3 because the petition's basis for the court's jurisdiction was 28 U.S.C. § 1331 (general federal 4 question jurisdiction) and 9 U.S.C. § 203 (providing jurisdiction for cases falling under the New 5 York Convention). Id. at *7. The court stated that "the [p]etition itself seems to recognize, these 6 two bases of jurisdiction coincide – the FAA is simply the source of federal question jurisdiction."
7 GET then argued that "a separate basis for subject matter jurisdiction over a separate enforcement 8 proceeding could be maintained on the basis of diversity jurisdiction." Id. The court ultimately 9 determined there was a lack of diversity jurisdiction because "GET and A-Power are both foreign 10 entities; for diversity purposes, GET is considered a citizen of China and A-Power is considered a 11 citizen of the British Virgin Islands and China." Id.

12 Turning the court's attention to the Amended Petition here, GOL asserts two bases for the 13

14 ¹³ In the Sea Eagle case, plaintiff sought to confirm and enforce an arbitration award 15 rendered against defendant Hanan Int'l, Inc. ("Hanan"). Plaintiff asserted that Hanan is a nonexistent 16 corporation and thus defendants should be held liable for the arbitration award under either an 17 agency, alter ego or piercing the corporate veil theory. Id. at *1. On ruling on a motion to dismiss 18 for lack of personal jurisdiction brought by some of the defendants, the court stated

19 The Court of Appeals has held that an action to confirm an arbitration award 20 is not the proper occasion for a district court to pierce the corporate veil or determine 21 issues of alter ego liability. Orion Shipping & Trading Co. v. Eastern States
22 Petroleum Corp. of Panama, 312 F.2d 299 (2d Cir.), cert. denied, 373 U.S. 949 23 (1963). The Orion court explained that the court's role in these proceedings is 24 limited to determining whether the arbitration award falls within the four corners of 25 the dispute. Id. at 301. The court also noted that the successful party in the 26 arbitration may bring a separate action against a nonparty to the arbitration to enforce 27 the award under an 'alter ego' or piercing the corporate veil theory. Id.

28 If this were merely an action to confirm the arbitration award, its attempt to impose liability on the defendants other than Hanan would have to be dismissed under Orion. However, plaintiff's complaint specifies two grounds for subject matter jurisdiction: Federal Arbitration Act, Title 9 U.S.C. and 28 U.S.C. § 1333 (general admiralty and maritime jurisdiction). This action could thus be construed as a separate action to enforce the arbitration award against nonparties to the arbitration.

Id. The court ultimately dismissed the complaint as to the moving defendants based on a lack of personal jurisdiction over said defendants.

1 court’s subject matter jurisdiction. The first basis is Sections 203 and 207 of the FAA. See Am. Pet.
 2 at ¶ 14, ECF No. 55. The second basis is 28 U.S.C. § 1332,¹⁴ as a suit “between a foreign state and 3 citizens of the United States, Baldwin and Bridge, and the amount in controversy is in excess of 4 $75,000.00.” Id. at ¶ 15. A review of the Amended Petition’s allegations regarding the citizenship 5 of the respondents reflects the following

- 6 • Baldwin - citizen of the United States with a residence¹⁵ in Saipan¹⁶
- 7 • Scott - has a residence in Saipan¹⁷
- 8 • Bridge - formed in the CNMI in 2005, with its principal place of business in Saipan¹⁸
- 9 • LHNV - incorporated in 2012 under the laws of Aruga, the Netherlands Antilles, with 10 its principal place of business in Saipan;¹⁹ and
- 11 • Sanum - incorporated in 2005 in Macau SAR, with its principal place of business in 12 Saipan.²⁰

13 For diversity purposes, a corporation is considered a citizen of the state in which it is 14 15 ¹⁴ In pertinent part, this status provides:

16 The district courts shall have original jurisdiction of all civil actions where the matter 17 in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs, 18 and is between – 18 . . .

19 (4) a foreign state . . . as plaintiff and citizens of a State or of different States.

20 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a)(4).

21 ¹⁵ The Amended Petition asserts that Baldwin has a residence in Saipan, but for diversity 22 purposes a party must be a citizen of the United States and be domiciled in a state of the United 23 States. Lew v. Moss, 797 F.2d 747, 749 (9th Cir. 1986). The Amended Petition does not address the domicile of either Baldwin or Scott.

24 ¹⁶ Am. Pet. at ¶¶ 9 and 15, ECF No. 55.

25 ¹⁷ Am. Pet. at ¶ 9A.

26 ¹⁸ Am. Pet. at ¶ 10, ECF No. 55.

27 ¹⁹ Am. Pet. at ¶ 11, ECF No. 55.

28 ²⁰ Am. Pet. at ¶ 10, ECF No. 55.

1 incorporated and the state of its principal place of business. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1). With the 2 respondents aligned as set forth in the Amended Petition, Petitioner GOL – a foreign state – is an 3 alien suing citizens of a State (Saipan) and two other aliens (LHNV and Sanum). This would divest 4 the court of diversity jurisdiction, since no provision of Section 1332 provides federal jurisdiction 5 when a foreign state sues citizens of a state and citizens of a foreign state. See Nike, Inc. v.
6 Comercial Iberica de Exclusivas Deportivas, S.A., 20 F.3d 987, 990 (9th Cir. 1994) (“diversity 7 jurisdiction does not encompass a foreign plaintiff suing foreign defendants”); Ed & Fred, Inc. v.
8 Puritan Marine Ins. Underwriters Corp., 506 F.2d 757, 758 (5th Cir. 1975) (finding lack of diversity 9 where alien brought action against a citizen of a state and another alien). Accordingly, there is no 10 diversity jurisdiction between the parties to this action, and thus the first Orion exception is 11 inapplicable.

12 The court has reviewed the parties’ supplemental briefs and is not persuaded by the additional 13 cases cited by GOL, many of which are irrelevant because they have nothing to do with confirmation 14 of arbitration awards against non-parties but instead discuss whether non-signatories to arbitration 15 agreements can be bound to such agreements. GOL’s reliance on UniCredit Bank of Austria AG v.
16 Immobiliaria y Arrendador Cuadro S.A. de C.V., No. CV-23-01991, 2024 WL 5118419 (D. Ariz.
17 Dec. 16, 2024), is misplaced. That decision did not discuss whether the court could confirm an 18 arbitral award against a non-party to the arbitration, and while that court examined factual alter ego 19 allegations in the pleadings, it did so only in the context of deciding whether it had personal 20 jurisdiction over the award debtor. Id. at *7-8. The court concludes that GOL has failed to 21 demonstrate that there is any other ground for jurisdiction over the Respondents.

22 IV. CONCLUSION

23 Based on the specific language of Section 207, the Al-Qarqani decisions, and the Orion case 24 and its progeny, and the fact that neither of the Orion exceptions applies to this case, the court grants 25 the Respondents’ Motion to Dismiss and finds that a confirmation action under Section 207 is not 26 the proper means for piercing the corporate veil as against non-parties to the arbitration proceedings.
27 Having so ruled, the court finds no further need to address the two remaining arguments raised in 28 ///

1 the Respondents' Motion to Dismiss and declines to do so. The court orders that the Respondents 2 be dismissed from this action for lack of subject-matter jurisdiction.

3 IT IS SO ORDERED.
